

& Folks Features

FACULTY/STAFF NEWSLETTER

February 2, 1996

Volume IV, Issue 10

Foundation To Hold Annual Meeting

The Floyd College Foundation will hold its annual meeting Monday, February 12, at Heritage Hall's Centre Stage. The group will recognize major donors to the Foundation and elect new officers and board members.

Mary Louise Lever, chairman of the Foundation, will be nominated to serve again as chairman, according to President Lynn Cundiff. "Ms. Lever has served admirably as chairman of the Foundation for a number of years, and we are delighted that she is willing to remain with us through this transitional year as we establish an office of Advancement on campus to assist in the daily operations of fund-raising for the Foundation," said Dr. Cundiff.

The Foundation is expected to name eight new board members and renew six board memberships.

A report on the year's activities will include the successful Monte Carlo Gala fund-raiser which supported the development of Centre Stage as a performance arena.

Bremen Open House Scheduled

The college will hold an open house at its new center in Bremen Sunday, March 3, 2-4 p.m. The center is located on the second floor of the city hall building. Jan King is the administrator there. More than 70 students are currently taking classes in Bremen.

"We're very pleased with the enrollment at the Bremen Center this first quarter," said Phil Kerr, chairman, Division of Enrollment Management. "We believe that we can have up to 400 students from that area once we are located in a permanent building."

The college will offer classes in the City Hall building until next year when the center will move to the Waco Elementary School building which is being vacated due to the addition of a new school building.

Georgia Speaker of the House, Tom Murphy, and the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia have been very supportive of a Floyd College campus in Haralson County.

A Day For FLOYD Scheduled

Floyd College Foundation members will canvas area businesses on Wednesday, February 21, asking for donations for scholarships.

The Foundation is trying to raise the $25,000 needed to cover this year's scholarship expenses.

Steve Edwards is coordinating the day which will find fourteen foundation members and four administrators working in pairs to call on five businesses each.

GRAND OPENING CENTRE STAGE

PRESENTING
"OUR TOWN"

The performance of "Our Town" by the Georgia Mountain Theatre Group which will herald the grand opening of Centre Stage at Heritage Hall is sold out. The next show will be comedian Dick Hardwick on April 26.

Folks

Ken Spruce, assistant professor of Political Science, gave a special guest lecture presentation at the University of Cincinnati during the 11th Annual Black Man Think Tank.

The presentation was titled "Major Black Leadership Styles of the 20th Century." The conference was held January 11-14.

Mr. Spruce has also notified us that he has begun community service work with the Bartow United Coalition. The Coalition is an umbrella organization representing several African-American groups across the county, striving to enhance the viability of the community in political, economic and social affairs. Mr. Spruce is serving on the Research & Planning Committee as a consultant.

Congratulations to Mary Rhinehart, instructor in Nursing, upon the birth of a grandson on January 25.

Dorothy Morgan, Student Services Liaison at NMTI, has passed the National Certified Counselor exam, offered by the National Board of Certified Counselors.

James Cook, professor of History, spoke to the Cedartown Optimist Club about Zell Miller on January 18.In the "WOW" department.....Dr. Cook's son Jamie, who created the sculpture which sits in the college's main lobby, sold a marble piece recently through the Lowe Gallery in Atlanta. The purchaser was musician ELTON JOHN!

Wendell Barnes, director of the ASL Immersion Training Program for Interpreters, led a two-day workshop on January 26 and 27 for persons working in the field of deaf-blindness from around the state. The workshop was held at Simpsonwood in north Atlanta, and was sponsored by the Georgia Deaf-Blind Project from GSU. The subject was an overview of deafness and an introduction to American Sign Language. Mr. Bob Green, who is Deaf himself and a Deaf-Blind Specialist at the Georgia Sensory Rehabilitation Center in East Point, assisted Mr. Barnes on the second day. After the first day the staff asked Wendell to come lead further training in April on St. Simon's Island!

Announcements

Continuing Education courses scheduled to be held in February are:

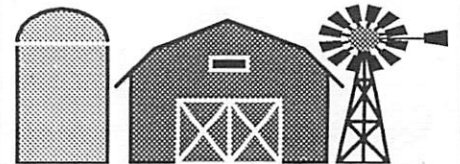

Introduction to Computers
DOS Concepts
WordPerfect 6.0 for DOS
WordPerfect 6.0 for Windows
First Class Customer Service
Dealing with Difficult People
Dental Hygiene
Reflexology
Floristry
Cake Decorating
Basic Sign language
Conversational Japanese
How to Succeed and Survive the Adoption Process
Important & Necessary Documents
Introduction to Investment
Developing College Study Skills
Oil Painting
Stained Glass
Watercolor
Senior Connection, Pot Luck Luncheon
 For info call 295-6324.

Floyd College
Folks & Features is published biweekly by the Office of Public Information. Information for inclusion should be submitted by noon Tuesday prior to publication.

SMB

The PROBE Transfer College Fair will be held at Floyd College Wednesday, February 14, 10 a.m.-noon in the Student Center. Representatives from 17 senior colleges will be on hand to talk to students about transferring to their college after completing their studies at Floyd. For information contact Angela Jenkins, recruitment coordinator, at 295-6339.

The Cloverleaf District 4-H competition will be held on campus the morning of Saturday, February 10. Between 500-800 4-H students will be displaying their projects and competing for awards. Sarah Burkhalter, assistant director of Continuing Education, is coordinating the activity for the college.

Happy Valentine's Day!